About me

Good Day, everyone! What brought you here? I am Princess Kaye S. Geonzon, and my date of birth is the 29th Day of the 5th month, year 2005. Guess my age? Yes! I am 19 years old. I am actually academically interested in technology. This interest of mine prompted me to major in Information Technology. My enthusiastic view of technology, however, isn't all that good. Because of it, I spend most of my leisure time scrolling through my cellphone. It is now my hobby to browse the internet to connect online. My average screen time is 10 hours! If you ask what I usually do, I often read comics, watch films, and play games. Seriously, I need to touch some grass. Moreover, I am from an average family, so I am also average and plain, so why are you here?! If you'd like to know me better, stop. Kidding aside, I like to keep things simple as an introvert person, so if you want to befriend me, my e-mail is princessgeonzon29@gmail.com.

Song: Sparkle

Sparkle, is a song from the animated movie "Your Name". The said movie is my ultimate favorite amongst all the movies I've watched, so I hold this music video dear in my heart. The song is about looking for one's self through introspective exploration. It's about discovering one's identity and purpose. Personally, I believe that my journey of me questioning who I am never stops, so this song is not merely a song, but a reminder to keep knowing myself.

My 5 personal What ifs

- What if I had been more confident?
- What if I had reflected deeper on my growth?
- What if I had known myself better?
- What if I become a better person?
- What if I become the better version of myself today?

as long as you do not stop."*
